(Flint, Michigan) Flint Bishop Airport is excited to announce a brand-new pet relief area located inside the terminal. Bishop has always been “open for business” to jet-setting pets. Now we’re pleased to provide an additional pet-relief area indoors, beyond security screening.

“FNT remains committed to being a pet-friendly airport, and we look forward to serving passengers with support animals in this enhanced way,” said Nino Sapone, Airport Director. The specially constructed facility is easily located beyond security on the lower level and is accessible from all gates.

The indoor area includes a patch of grass for our four-legged flyers to stretch their legs. We also installed an automatic flushing system to eliminate waste into drains below the grass. In addition, trash bags are available, a sink for owners to wash their hands and re-fill water bottles. The newly expanded pet relief area is now open to all pets as well as service animals.

This station is an additional pet relief location. We still maintain our outdoor facility on the west end of the terminal prior to the employee parking lot.
